

HILLEL

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

2018-19

From the whiteboard of Tilly Shames

With every Annual Report, it's a pleasure to look back at all we have accomplished in the year. What I appreciate most is the balance between keeping traditions alive and relevant, and finding new, exciting avenues to engage students in Jewish life.

Our exciting addition this year was our redesigned backyard, with a new patio, tables, chairs, benches, heaters, and hammocks that you will see students enjoying in the pages of this report. With design input from students to meet their needs, it has been a pleasure to watch these students now taking advantage of their new space to study, eat, and just hang out.

It's always most challenging to take something we've been doing for a while and help make it feel new again. The Shabbat Committee plans every week to develop new ideas to make students feel comfortable and welcome on a Friday night. The Bayit program has taken "host-at-home" to a new level, supporting houses as satellites of Jewish life on campus. And the Major Events Committee made Purim new again with a huge carnival reaching 200 students!

This year, students exhibited not just resilience but leadership in difficult times. When faced with the shooting in the Tree of Life synagogue in Pittsburgh, students came together in a moment of unity and solidarity, supporting our entire community, in particular our Jewish students from Squirrel Hill. When faced with anti-Semitism and anti-Israel sentiment, the students and staff developed a multi-part series addressing these issues. And students continued to lead in bringing dialogue and cross-communal programming to campus.

I hope you'll enjoy reading about these new initiatives as much as we enjoy creating them, and that you'll take pride in seeing how we continue to build upon our traditions to engage more and more Jewish students every year.

A handwritten signature in black ink, reading "Tilly Shames". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of the first and last names being capitalized and prominent.

Tilly Shames
Executive Director

College is full of many twists and turns. But what is always constant, in my life and so many other Jewish students' lives, is the community of Michigan Hillel.

What is always constant are Shabbat dinners where hundreds of students come to eat, schmooze, and decompress together after a long week. What is always constant are the smiles and energy of the staff who are ready to support students through academics, Jewish life, and everything in between. What is always constant are the 45+ student organizations ranging from social action to sports. What is always constant are the feelings of comfort and belonging experienced by students when entering Hillel.

When I started at Michigan, I was nervous about how I could ever acclimate to such a huge school. However, the minute I walked into the Hillel building as a freshman, I knew I had found my home-away-from-home. Now, my goal as Chair is to ensure that the Hillel community continues to thrive and grow so every Jewish student has a community on campus and a place they can call home.

With much gratitude, I want to thank the staff, student leaders, donors, and Hillel community. My college experience (and that of thousands of others) would not be the same without this vibrant and wonderful Hillel community.

Leor Rosen ('21)
Chair, Governing Board

For many Jewish students, Michigan Hillel is one of the best benefits of attending this great academic institution. Each year, Hillel feeds over 250 students every Friday night, supports dozens of programs each week, and reaches 75% of the 5,000 Jewish undergraduate students on campus. Our Hillel is positioned as the center for Jewish life, community, and personal exploration on campus, offering an amazing array of Jewish opportunities ranging from religious, social justice, Israel, and cultural programming.

As the newly installed Chair of Michigan Hillel's Board of Trustees, I am thrilled to be a part of such a dynamic and successful organization. The beginning of a new year brings many opportunities for introspection, personal growth, and impactful actions for both the student population and the committed staff and board of Hillel. As a hub for cultural, social, and educational experiences, Michigan Hillel is always seeking to be innovative. However, even as it evolves, Hillel remains a constant on campus -- providing a safe haven, a home for Jewish students, and a place for them to get involved, meet contemporaries, learn, grow and develop. I am confident that under the direction of the outstanding Executive Director, Tilly Shames, the talented staff, and the student-led Governing Board, Michigan Hillel will continue to adapt, evolve and support U of M students at the highest level.

Please come and visit our Hillel to witness all the wonderful offerings, and remember, Go Blue!

Susan Slabotsky
Chair, Board of Trustees

LEARNING & S

Shabbat Lunch and Learn with Rav Jared and Sarit

Shabbat Lunch and Learn has always been a great way to bring a community together to learn and eat in a warm environment. What really sets it apart is the atmosphere. Sarit Anstandig, our Hillel's Project Manager, immediately grabbed everyone's attention with her enthusiasm, charisma, and interaction with us. Everyone stayed well after the meal, chatting, playing games, and enjoying the company. It's nice to have Hillel's Lunch and Learn program fostering a community feel and a homey environment away from home.

Yonatan Aharoni (Graduate Student, '19)

Rabbi Saul Berman

Having Rabbi Saul Berman with us at Hillel over Shabbat was truly an honor. It was so meaningful to hear his recollections of his involvement with both the Soviet Jewry movement and Civil Rights movement, including his time in Selma, where he participated in the 1965 march, and his Purim spent in a Selma jailhouse. Rabbi Berman's actions were based on the injustices that he saw immediately before his eyes, and his ability to speak up and take action was absolutely inspiring for me.

Adriano Macciocchi ('21)

ING CHOLARS

Rabbi Rick Jacobs

Rabbi Rick Jacobs, President of the Union for Reform Judaism (URJ), shared with a group of students his personal Jewish journey and opened a discussion about the URJ's role on college campuses, specifically at the University of Michigan. It was an incredible experience to get to speak with and learn from such a powerful and relevant Jewish leader. I look forward to seeing what the URJ has in store for college-aged Jewish students, like myself.

Rachel Levy ('20)

Jewish Learning Fellowship (JLF)

The Jewish Learning Fellowship has been one of my favorite parts of freshman year. Working with Rav Lisa, Haley, and all of the JLF students has made me love being Jewish even more than before. It has brought the morals of Judaism into my everyday life, in a modern and laid-back way.

Elena Cohen ('22)

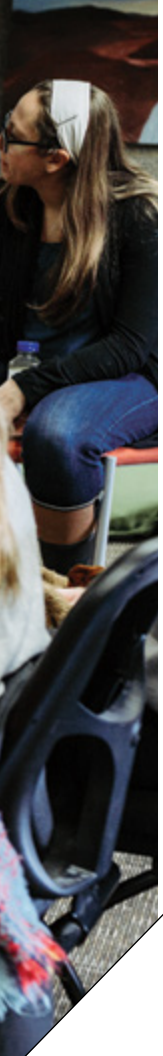

Courageous Conversation with Yavilah McCoy

Over Shabbat, Yavilah McCoy, a black Jewish activist and educator, taught about courage in relationships in the Torah, connecting it to her racial justice work. On Saturday, we had a cross-community discussion with other campus groups, like the NAACP, and learned how to engage in tough conversations. Then, on Sunday, we had an informal Q and A with the Jewish community, where we mostly focused on questions of inclusion in Jewish spaces and the recent controversies embroiling the Women's March. Overall, the weekend educated and challenged many of us, pushing people to try on a new perspective for approaching difficult conversations - both in our community and with others. Through this experience, I have gained more understanding of strategies for building more inclusive Jewish spaces, and for working with others outside the Jewish community.

Ali Rosenblatt ('21)

LEA

Being passionate about Judaism and Civic Engagement, I was able to translate my Jewish values into action through my work with our campus's MitzVote campaign. I helped to get the Hillel community registered to vote and provided my fellow Jewish students with the resources they needed to make their voices heard in the Midterm Election.

Annabel Weinbach ('20)

Moonshot Thinking with Mimi Kravetz

For our annual leadership training, we invited Mimi Kravetz, Chief Talent Officer at Hillel International and former HR executive at Google, to Michigan to run a workshop on "Moonshot Thinking" for Hillel leaders. Forty-five students from various Hillel groups used Moonshot Thinking to brainstorm how to get more people involved and improve everyone's individual experiences so that they feel like they are a part of our community. It was an extremely successful event and we are thankful to have had the opportunity to learn from Mimi.

LEADERSHIP

MAJOR EVENTS

Basketball & Study Hall

The Major Events Committee started winter semester off with Basketball and Study Hall, a Michigan basketball watch party where students could study together. We set up a cozy atmosphere with couches and bean bags, and we projected the Michigan vs. Michigan State basketball game onto the wall. People were encouraged to watch the game while studying and snacking on Kosher wings. The event was a great success and exceeded our expectations with over 80 people attending. The best part of the event, was having so many students stay for the whole game because they could do their homework at the same time.

Molly Copley ('21)

4th Annual #BattleOnHill Charity Hockey Game

On Tuesday, March 26th, Hillel took on the Ross School of Business in the 4th Annual Battle on Hill Charity Hockey Game, benefitting the ChadTough Foundation. For the 4th straight year Hillel emerged victorious, putting together a commanding 9-2 victory. Together with contributions from players, friends and family, the two teams were able to raise $4,310 for the event, breaking the $4,000 goal set from last year! All of this money will go towards research in the fight against pediatric brain cancer. We are thankful to all those who came out to support the team, as well as all of the gracious donors who helped support this amazing cause.

Christopher Zhang ('19)

Escape Room from Egypt

For the first time, Hillel ran a Passover "Escape Room". I participated in this experience with the Major Events Committee and loved the teamwork aspect of it. Working together with my peers to "Escape Egypt" was not only fun, but very educational! The Escape Room did a wonderful job incorporating the story of Passover in its clever clues and overall theme.

Rachel Klein ('21)

"Mordechai's Mixer" Michigan Hillel's Purim Festival

This year we threw Hillel's first-ever Purim carnival, Mordechai's Mixer! The event attracted nearly 200 students, who enjoyed celebrating Purim together as a community. The carnival featured many games, a bounce house, fun treats, a variety of delicious hamantaschen, and a BBQ! Students had a wonderful time getting their faces painted, taking silly pictures at the photo booth, and trying to decide which to eat first - cotton candy or snow cones!

Darryl Frank ('21)

WELCOME WEEK

Welcome Back Bagel Brunch

The Back to School Bagel Brunch is always one of the highlights of the beginning of the year. It gives students a chance to reconnect with old friends and make new ones. The bagels and lox are definitely a fan favorite!

Sarah Broner ('20)

Open House BBQ

Even as a senior I am always still excited to come back to school for the Welcome Back BBQ. It's a really great opportunity to catch up with friends and learn about what they did over the summer, plus I get to meet incoming students who are enthusiastic to be at Michigan. I feel so lucky to have helped plan this event because it is something that a lot of people look forward to!

Dalia Gatoff ('19)

Freshman Retreat

Before beginning my freshman year, my roommate and I decided to take part in the Hillel Freshman Retreat in order to meet new people and create strong friendships within the Jewish student community. This opportunity instantly helped make a big school feel that much smaller. On the retreat, we took part in group challenges, experienced a night hike, and roasted s'mores by a bonfire. The Freshman Retreat was truly the highlight of my year and helped me easily transition into my first year at Michigan!

Melanie Beal ('22)

Meet the Mensches

The Meet the Mensches event was a great way for freshmen to meet older members of the Hillel community. All of the mensches were extremely friendly and involved in many activities outside of Hillel. Participating in this event made the transition to college a lot easier and gave me a ton of new friendly faces around campus.

Ariana Schwartzberg ('22)

HOST AT HOME

4th Annual ShabUM "Shabbat Across Campus" Success

This was my second year taking part in the ShabUM experience: last year as a captain for ShabUM in the dorms and this year as a member of the ShabUM Committee. Connecting with individuals all across campus to inspire each one to host a Shabbat meal in their home was truly meaningful work. I couldn't believe the numbers as we were nearing the end - over 1,600 students were hosting and/or going to a ShabUM meal around Ann Arbor! In a time where Jews may feel small and even alone, ShabUM reassured me, and I hope others, that there is always a place for them in the community and that they are always welcome.

Allison Bloomberg ('21)

High Holiday Host at Home

This year, I hosted a Rosh Hashanah dinner, a Shabbat dinner (ShabUM), and a Passover Seder in my home. I got Jewish friends from my different friend groups to slow down their busy lives and enjoy a home-cooked meal together. The most rewarding part was hearing from my guests how they felt that they'd connected to a Jewish community in a new way. I also got to show some of my non-Jewish friends (mostly my housemates) why Judaism is so important to me. I love the Host at Home program so much and will continue to host friends for Jewish holidays!

Leah Adelman ('21)

ISRAEL

Let's Talk Israel

This unique speaker series presented an amazing opportunity for student leaders within the Israel community to learn and talk about Israel in an untraditional format. Speakers across different professions with diverse backgrounds, experiences and ideologies led insightful discussions on complicated topics related to the conflict, personal relationships with Israel and more, posing many challenging questions for students. It is important to examine Israel from a variety of angles, giving students the tools they need to advocate on Israel's behalf while also expanding their knowledge and developing their perspectives. The lineup of speakers included journalists Nathan Jaffy and Itai Anghel, Israel's first Arab Rhodes Scholar, Lian Najami; Professor Eugene Kontorovich; and a concluding conversation with Hillel's Dialogue Group Liaison, Rav Lisa Stella.

Josh Abramowitz ('21)

#GoBlueAndWhite

After a difficult time for our community on campus, we wanted to do something to demonstrate our solidarity as a community of Jewish Wolverines and supporters of Israel. On October 11th, we decided to all wear blue and white around campus for one day. The campaign was a huge success and we had hundreds of students participate.

Noa Friedman ('20)

University of Michigan Leadership Trip to Israel

For 12 days during our winter break, 18 Michigan student leaders traveled with Hillel to experience and discuss the complexities of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict firsthand. Hailing from student organizations, personal experiences, and political opinions, we came together for this unique experience. Each day we met with different political, religious, social and cultural leaders to hear their stories and incorporate their perspectives into our broader understanding of the conflict. These interactions manifested into large group processing sessions, individual debates, discussions on the bus, and a wide array of questions. I think I speak for all of the members of our trip when I say that we came back to campus not just with a greater understanding of the conflict but with 18 new friendships and a determination to use this newfound knowledge to engage in productive and honest discussion. I feel so lucky to have had this amazing opportunity and can't wait to continue having these conversations on campus.

Amanda Kaplan ('21)

Volunteer Committee

Throughout this past winter semester, Hillel has had a variety of volunteer opportunities for students. From making blankets for a local shelter and cards for soldiers and children in the hospital, to volunteering at a local food kitchen, to recently partaking in DORAK (Do Random Acts of Kindness Day), where we made and gave out cards to people randomly on the Diag, we have tried to help a variety of communities across Ann Arbor. We look forward to next semester and even more volunteering opportunities!

Samantha Klein ('21) & Dahlia Katz ('21)

Alternative Spring Break to Pocahontas State Park

This spring break, a group of ten students and Social Justice Fellow, Rebecca Grbinich, headed off to Pocahontas State Park in Virginia. Throughout the week, our group completed multiple projects, including making a lavatory facility accessible, clearing trails, and picking up trash. The students on the trip also spent time discussing how Jewish beliefs tie into their connection with community service. Towards the end of the trip, we spent Shabbat at Randolph Macon College, joining in conversation with new friends. Overall, this trip was a great way to make new friends on campus, connect with nature, and make a difference!

Nina Graham ('21)

Challah for Hunger

Challah for Hunger is a student-run volunteer group that raises money for local food banks. Every other week, students come together to bake, braid and sell the challahs in Mason Hall. Through selling chocolate chip, plain, cinnamon sugar, everything bagel, and even special Flavor-of-the-Week challahs, we raised $2,861. Being part of Challah for Hunger is so special because it is very inclusive and everyone who is involved has fun while giving back to the community.

Jessica Steir ('22)

Pickling with HaYerukim

HaYerukim, Hillel's Environmental Group, hosted a How-To-Pickle event to promote food sustainability in a fun and welcoming environment. The group learned how to create a pickle brine and then students got to choose which vegetables they wanted to pickle. Pickling is sustainable in the way that it takes food that is going bad and ferments it so it doesn't go to waste. We hope that this event helped to educate guests about sustainability in a Jewish setting and that students were able to learn a valuable skill to take with them!

Ivy Klee ('19)

SOCIAL ACTION

Senior Legacy Campaign

Each year there is a tradition that graduating seniors express our gratitude to Hillel by raising money for a special gift. The Class of 2019 decided that our gift would be a new portable Torah Ark to be used in services for years to come. After a six-week campaign, we are proud to have surpassed our goal of $2,019 from over 100 graduating senior supporters! We are so excited for future Michigan students to use this Torah Ark and we cannot wait to see the final product!

Noah Seligson ('19)

Beyond Maize & Blue Books: Senior Seminar

Participating in Hillel's Senior Seminar experience has better prepared me to become a Jewish adult. After feeling isolated from the Jewish community for a few years, the seminar was the perfect avenue for reconnecting. The programming and leadership facilitated strong friendships grounded in values and kindness and created a space for open learning and dialogue of Jewish topics. Sitting in one another's homes, debating text, and learning how to shape our Jewish futures was such a unique and truly wonderful experience.

Shoshana Kaplan ('19)

Senior Appreciation Dinner

The Senior Appreciation Dinner recognizes and celebrates the achievements of Hillel's vibrant community of senior students. In collaboration with the Major Events Committee, we threw a BBQ-themed dinner for 50 graduating students to show Hillel's appreciation for all of the dedication, support, and engagement from the Class of 2019. We will miss our seniors and hope they always remember the Hillel community they called home for the last four years. Wherever you go, Go Blue!

Neil Schwartz ('19)

CAMPUS CLIMATE

With challenging anti-Israel incidents on campus and antisemitic attacks in synagogues in America, our students felt the weight of the 2018-19 year. On multiple occasions, our Hillel gathered together to create spaces of support and dialogue for the Jewish community, and educational moments for those wishing to learn more about antisemitism today. Sadly, our Jewish students also joined vigils for other communities, to show our solidarity for their suffering as well. As the Pittsburgh students shared during the vigil following the Tree of Life attack, "May there be peace within your walls and tranquility in your dwelling places". (Book of Psalms)

Tilly Shames

Student Reflections

This attack has shown us that even in the darkest of times, we as a Jewish community come together in breathtaking ways. We have heard from so many friends both here at Michigan and across the country and I know there are vigils like this taking place across the world. This tremendous outpouring of love and support has been incredibly moving and comforting in the face of this devastating tragedy.

Eva Rosen ('19) and Jonathan Schermer ('19)

Antisemitism Educational Series

Our Hillel hosted a three-part antisemitism education series, in which faculty presented materials that enabled students to more fully understand and better define the complexities of antisemitism today. We were honored to have Professor Alexandra Minna Stern present on antisemitic themes in social media and alt-right communication platforms, Professor Jeff Veidlinger discuss the historical themes of antisemitism and its contemporary manifestations, and Professor Shachar Pinsker speak to the complexities of antisemitism's presence within Israel-related conversation. Each session allowed for students to process their own experiences with antisemitism on campus and to begin to integrate their learning into a more sophisticated response to antisemitism today.
